TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF ADA

You have loyally pledged to suspend all business from 9:00 to 11:00 o'clock next Monday morning to help put over our quota of Liberty Bonds. This will materially help the workers in their canvass of the town, and in their behalf, I want to thank you for this assistance.

There is a great drive in the Balkans, a greater on the Western Front, but the GREATEST DRIVE is now going on in America—the Fourth Liberty Loan Bond Drive. You are in that and I'm in it. Let's quit ourselves like men. Let's fight with our money and our credit. Let's buy our full share of bonds. And, having bought them, let's live so simply and economically and exercise so much thrift that we shall be able to pay for them and keep them. They will pay us 4 1/4 per cent dividends in money, but the real dividends comes in self-respect and the consciousness that we have done our utmost in a great cause and for a righteous purpose.

Again thanking you for your unselfish assistance, I am,

Yours for the Fourth Liberty Loan,
L. A. ELLISON,
County Chairman.

GERMAN FORCES RETREATING IN THE CHAMPAGNE REGION

UNABLE TO STAND BEFORE THE FIERCE ATTACKS OF AMERICANS AND FRENCH

(By the Associated Press)

Germans Retire in Champagn.
Paris, Oct. 5.—Under pressure of French and American attacks in Champagne the Germans have retired of their left flank and have given up territory east of Blancmont, according to the war office statement today. The French maintained their gains in heavy fighting east of Argonne forest northwest of Rheims. In the last five days the French have captured over 2,500 prisoners and thirty-one guns. West of the Sappe river the French are keeping in touch with German rear guards and have reached the heights southeast of Moronvillars. Violent fighting continues north of St. Quentin.

British Make Progress.
London, Oct. 5.—In the region north of St. Quentin British troops made substantial progress yesterday southeast of Beaufort and north of Lecatelet. Field Marshal Haig's reports say 800 prisoners were taken and the British line northwest of Lecatelet was advanced slightly Friday night.

Austrians Retreating.
Paris, Oct. 5.—Allied forces in Serbia have come into contact with Austro-Hungarian forces near Vrange, Southern Serbia. Serbian forces operating against the Austrians took Prenis Thursday. The Austrians are retreating rapidly.

FERDINAND QUILTS BULGAR THRONE

REPORT FROM VIENNA SAYS
TURNED GOVERNMENT OVER TO PRINCE BORIS.

(By the Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Oct. 5.—The official Austrian correspondence bureau publishes a dispatch from Sofia, dated Friday, stating that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria abdicated Thursday in favor of Crown Prince Boris, who has already assumed the reins of government.

MAYOR CONGER FINES 7 ON VAG CHARGES

Several men were up before Mayor Conger this morning rounded up on vag charges. He found all guilty and assessed a fine of $10 and trimmings of several dollars in each case. The men were Barton Wright, Arthur High, Ivy Wright, Sandy Northcutt, Walter Dags, Claud Cox and Jess Bond. Dags and High entered pleas of guilty. Bond's sentence was suspended since he is to take the army examination Monday.

The city and county officers and council of defense are working in complete harmony in the endeavor to make the work or fight order mean what it says and they announce the determination to continue the raids as long as the situation demands.

BARTON FUNERAL WILL BE HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON
The funeral services of Percy O. Barton will be held at the family residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. G. W. Beck will conduct the services.

Major Raymond Barton, brother of deceased, is en route home from Camp Hancock, Ga., and will arrive Sunday evening.

DEATH OF MRS. EMMA SWEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON
Mrs. Emma Sweet, wife of J. C. Sweet, died at the family residence, West 5th street, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Her death was due to pneumonia.

Deceased was only 27 years of age being in the very prime of her womanhood and death has taken her from her devoted husband and child almost at the very threshold of life.

LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN MONDAY

The Liberty Loan campaign will reach a climax Monday morning when the soliciting committees make their rounds. It is hoped to bring it to a close within a few hours. In Ada the business men will remain at their places of business from 9 to 12. The pledges signed by all a few days ago calls for at least one letter to be written to soldier boys during this period. Those who have no places of business will remain at home so that the committees can complete their work in one round and not be forced to make two or three calls.

Chairman Ellison is pleased with the outlook and thinks Pontotoc county's quota of $443,250 will be raised in record time. Already several rural communities report that they have everything in readiness to go over the top with all dispatch.

Places in the county not already reached will be covered by speakers Sunday.

NORMAL TEACHERS SUBSCRIBE FOR LIBERTY BONDS
In view of the fact that the normal will not be in session Monday the faculty members made their subscriptions today, every one being represented.

LIBERTY
Pearl White is presented in the famous drama, The House of Hate. The program also contains an L-KO comedy and the Screen Magazine. Coming Monday: Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Payne in Cyclone Higgins, D. D.

Attention Royal Arch Masons.

EXPLOSION KILLS MORE THAN 100

SHELL LOADING PLANT IN NEW JERSEY WRECKED. PROP. EVERY LOSS $18,000,000.

(By the Associated Press)

Port Amboy, N. J., Oct. 5.—Explosions followed by fire which last night destroyed a number of buildings of T. A. Gillespie and Co.'s great shell loading plant at Morgan, N. J., near here continued at frequent intervals during the early morning hours culminating with a terrific blast at 10:09 A. M. which blew one of few remaining storehouses to bits. At 10:30 A. M., unofficial estimates placed casualties among more than 2,000 men of the company's night shift at 137.

The cause of the disaster is yet unknown and officials discredit spy theory. The plant was valued at $18,000,000. The explosion rocked the country for a radius of fifty miles like an earthquake wrecking small buildings and causing a panic in many villages nearby.

Hundred and one of company's employees had been accounted for twelve hours after first explosion. At noon fourteen bodies had been recovered. At 11 o'clock today flames were threatening the Gillespie plant were threatening two other big munition factories known as the Oliver and California plants. All towns within ten miles of Morgan have been ordered evacuated by the authorities. Occasional explosions took place as far as two miles from the plant and the people of nearby towns are leaving by thousands. The district about the plants resemble the buildings of France.

ADA HIGH WINS OVER HOLDENVILLE

The high school football team retrieved its fortunes of last week in the disastrous loss of their game at the hands of Shawnee high and proved that they had benefited by their lesson when they defeated the heavy Holdenville aggregation yesterday on the high school gridiron to the tune of 39 to 0.

Holdenville was scarcely in the game at all so thoroughly did the Ada boys have them at their mercy both on offensive and defensive. Time after time did the home team plunge through the opponent's line, swing around his ends, complete beautiful passes almost at will, while Holdenville was able to make downs only twice. The only reason the score was not much greater was that quarters were limited to ten minutes.

The boys participating in the game were Shaw, captain, Orr, Adair, Gargis, Mooney, Crawford, Smith, McKendree, Worthington, Cunnings, Mallory and Roach.

NOTICE.
Having recently purchased from John P. McKinley his entire interest in the co-partnership of McKinley & Finley, the public is hereby advised that I am merging all the former business of the firm of McKinley & Finley with the Ada Title & Trust Company, and will hereafter be associated with them in the Oklahoma State Bank building, at which place I shall be glad to meet our former friends and patrons. You will receive the same careful and courteous treatment heretofore extended by the firm of McKinley & Finley.

Thanking you for past favors and earnestly soliciting a continuance of your valued patronage, assuring you that, with my new associates, I am in better position to serve you than in the past.

CONSTIPATION

And Stomach Cannot Then Lady Black Suffering Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

"I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

"I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects. It has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

ent in this service and are urged to come. Senior Christian Endeavor at 7:00 P. M. with a splendid program. A permanent organization will be effected at this time. Evening service at 8:00 o'clock. A special rally service in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan. ## PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. Watch the kidneys.

The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes, look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, high colored or scanty urine, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

The Liberty Loan campaign will begin in dead earnest Monday morning. Some citizens will probably consider the quotas assigned them as rather stiff, but these are nothing to what the boys in khaki are undergoing. Even from the financial standpoint most of the soldiers are sacrificing more than any of us will be called on to meet in this drive. Meet the committees with a smile and do your best.

Press reports indicate that even the kaiser can learn a few things. The latest is that he is giving his consent to surrender part of his autocratic power to the German parliament. The principle of absolutism is the dearest of all to his heart but with the example of the late czar of Russia who lost his crown and life because he refused to give his subjects a larger share in the government, the kaiser has decided that half a loaf is better than no loaf and will make the best of the matter by making some concessions.

A splendid example of doing one's bit is given by little Miss Leona Krieger, the five-year-old daughter of C. F. Krieger and wife of Ada. When the call came for peach seed with which to make a special kind of charcoal to be used in gas masks, the little one realized that the soldiers needed help and she at once set to work to do her part. She picked up a large sackful, at least two bushels, and these will be sent to the war department. When it is remembered that 200 seed make enough charcoal for one mask, it will be seen that the little girl's work will mean the saving of several American lives. The point is that if every one does his or her part as well as this little girl the kaiser's throne will soon crash and the world freed of the menace of Prussianism.

That Austria-Hungary is anxious to secure peace now goes without saying. The fact has not been drilled forcibly enough into the consciousness of the Austrian rulers, however, that peace cannot be made with a Germany that still considers itself victorious. Austria-Hungary can get peace the exact minute this dual monarchy agrees to the terms of President Wilson, and not until then. This country faces a condition that was never faced before by an nation in the world. Whether the monarchy fights one day longer or one year longer makes no special difference so far as the control of the monarchs over various nationalities is concerned. The wise thing for Emperor Charles to do is to ask for peace terms, any kind of peace terms, just as Bulgaria did. Charles then would have his throne. If he continues in the same mad course he is now pursuing, he may find himself without a throne and the people whom he has ruled will be burdened by unnecessary taxation.

The kaiser's ancestors were placed on the throne because they convinced the people they were descended from the gods the Germans worshipped at that time and had a strong pull with these deities. Just now these gods seem to be taking a vacation or else the kaiser has lost his pull.

GEOGRAPHY AND THE WAR.
Jerusalem.

In the Turkish province of Syria, Palestine, estimated population in 1912, 85,000.

Jerusalem is situated on an elevated site within the fork of two ravines the Valley of Jehosaphat and the Valley of Hinnom. On the eastern side of this valley is Mount Moriah, where stood the palace and temple of Solomon. Immediately south of this stood the mountain fortress of Zion, known as the City of David.

Ancient Jerusalem possessed three walls, and the present limits of the city are much the same as those indicated by the third wall. Of the seven gates only five are now used. The interior of the city has many mosques, churches, and convents. The houses are substantially built of stone and in most cases without long lanes with dead walls on each side of them. The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, built by Helena, the mother of Constantine the Great, is remarkable for its decorations and the number of pilgrims by whom it is visited. The enclosure known as El Haram-Esh-Sherif (The Noble Sanctuary) is in the form of a parallelogram surrounded by a lofty wall. Within it is the Mosque of Omar (Dome of Rock), which occupies the site of the Jewish Temple. Among the notable buildings are the Latin Convent and the Armenian Convent, accommodating 1000 pilgrims. Jerusalem is mentioned in history as early as 1400 B. C.

S. A. T. C. NOTES.
The East Central unit of the S. A. T. C. was opened Monday. About seventy men were present and began their life in the service by sleeping in barracks and having meals in the mess hall. The number of men has been increasing daily and it is expected the number will reach one hundred by the first of next week.

The order of the day follows:
5:45 to 7:00 a. m. drill and physical exercise.
7:00 o'clock, roll call, mess.
7:30 to 9:00, drill and exercise.
9:00 to 12:00, academic.
12:00, mess.
1:00 to 4:00 p. m., academic.
4:00 to 5:30, athletics.
5:30, inspection.
6:00, mess.
7:00 to 9:00 study.
9:00 to 10:00, songs and amusements.

The boys are delighted with army life, though many of them have not yet been able to accustom themselves to the intensive exercise and early rising and setting.

A piano has been placed in the barracks, an Edison is coming and Miss Keller has ordered 250 popular songs for the men to use. A band is being organized by Prof. Cruz, a double male quartette is training and a male chorus. A weekly dance will be inaugurated soon with the young ladies of the Normal and city attending.

Lieutenant R. D. Teichman has greatly endeared himself to the men by the splendid manner in which he instructs them and by his efforts in developing the best in each. He leads them in songs and helps in all sports and states that nothing will be left undone to make the best S. A. T. C. unit in Oklahoma.

Of sports the men are to have wrestling, boxing, running, baseball, football, tennis and all others to make life pleasant and successful for the army men. A great deal of this will be directed and aided by Lieutenant Teichman.

Leslie Stewart is first sergeant of the company, Maurice Gordon and Milton Moore, guides. Floyd Haynes and Cecil Mallory are buglers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood are furnishing mess which is served in the basement of the Normal building.

H. F. Mathis, former assistant prosecuting attorney for Pontotoc County, is mess sergeant.

Keep your stomach, liver and bowels in good condition if you would have health. Prickly Ash Bitters cleanses and strengthens these organs and helps the system to resist disease germs. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents.

"Carry On"

THE fighting slogan in France, gathering inspiration and significance as the conflict grows more violent and more desperate, is "Carry On." On land, on sea, in the air, it rings sharp and clear.

Into the front line trenches comes the signal to charge. The company commander swings "over the top." At his heels, pushing and stumbling through the hell of "No Man's Land," come the boys. They gain a yard, five, ten, and the machine guns speak. The commander falls, but over his shoulder, above the din of battle, he shouts, "Carry On, Lieutenant!" So on and on, till every officer falls, and the grizzled old Sergeant sets his teeth and takes what's left of them on to victory.

"Carry On" must be our slogan here at home. We must "Carry On" to the utmost limit our ability, to the last dollar of our resources, till Victory is won. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder—buy all the Liberty Bonds we can. Let us keep our Bonds and save to buy more.

"Carry On!" Buy Liberty Bonds!

THIS SPACE SUBSCRIBED TO WINNING THE WAR BY GREGG & CO.

Why Buy Bonds.

The essay in Friday's paper by James Statler and the one below were written by High school freshmen, members of Miss Steed's class. These young people have plenty of the American spirit as evidenced by their productions.—Editor

Many of you have brothers, sons, fathers, husbands or friends in the army or navy. You do not want them to starve because you do not buy bonds nor to die because of insufficient clothing, or because they haven't good barracks to sleep in. Then buy bonds! If you or some other fellow didn't buy it, wouldn't matter, but we all think, "Oh, well I am not going to buy, because everybody else will."

Part of this money goes to the starving Belgians. You remember how the little children there were killed and hung on bayonets; others had their hands or arms cut off. Do you want your children treated that way? The money, in part, goes to pay the boys, to provide nurses, doctors, medicine, ambulances and hospitals to care for "our boys" when they are wounded. Many boys would die if it were not for your money. We need ships to take the men to France, motor trucks to carry provisions, airplanes and balloons with which to repel the enemy. Both over there and over here we need the Y. M. C. A. and every comfort and pleasure we can give our boys.

None of us want the kaiser or one of his sons to rule us, therefore BUY Bonds in order that the boys may have plenty to eat and wear and be well and happy enough to give the kaiser a good licking.

When our boys come back and ask what you did will you hide your face in shame or lift your head high and say, "I did my best." We must buy bonds to the last cent of our ability because our country is fighting for its very life, and freedom for the world. We must fight this war through, and how can we without money to carry it on? It will take money, money, money that we may send men, men, men.

Buy Bonds! This is the only way we can win this war. The time to whip Germany is now or never! Help back the boys up so they can soon plant "Old Glory" in Berlin. You may say you are patriotic, salute the flag and cheer the boys but that doesn't make you patriotic. Are you a slacker? Now is your time to prove that you are not. There are many boys who have given their lives for their country so won't you try to avenge the loss by helping win the war? Many boys are prisoners in Germany, let us win the war as soon as possible and set them free. I appeal to you as true citizens of the United States of America in order that Liberty shall not perish from the earth—BUY LIBERTY BONDS.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE BY MARY GRAMM BOWEN

ABUSED CROW.

"It makes me pretty angry at times,"
said Charlie Crow.

"What makes you angry? Crow, Crow, what makes you angry?"
asked Mrs. Charlie Crow.

"The farmers make me angry. Their lack of appreciation of me makes me feel terribly. Oh, it is beyond words at times, to tell how sad I feel!"
and Charlie Crow wept a tear which fell on his handsome black coat.

"Poor Charlie," said Mrs. Crow. "My poor child, Charlie."

For when he was feeling sad and mournful Mrs. Crow always treated him as though he were a child crow instead of a grown-up Mr. Crow.

"And they still put the scarecrows in their fields. They still do."

"You mean those creatures made out of sticks and things, which are dressed up like men with guns, eh?" asked Mrs. Crow.

"Yes, they are called scarecrows," said Charlie. "They are put in the fields to scare away the crows and that is why they have such a name—
you see—scarecrows, or 'Let us scare the crows.'"

"Ah, that is a sad and sorry tale,"
said Mrs. Crow. "To think of farmers still putting those scarecrows in the fields. Why, they actually keep many, many crows away. We understand them. We know they are only make-believe men and that they carry only make-believe guns. But it's not kind of the farmers to try to frighten us away. We are really such good friends of the farmers."

"That's so," said Charlie; "that is where the sad part of it comes in. Oh, dear, oh, dear," and poor Mr. Charlie Crow wept another bitter tear, which made his black coat quite wet.

Mrs. Charlie Crow took her maple-leaf handkerchief which Mr. Crow had given her on her last birthday (she had birthdays very often, so as to get lots of presents), and wiped the wet spot which had been made by the tear.

"Don't weep, Mr. Crow. Don't weep, Charlie, old boy. Nothing is so bad that it mightn't be worse, I've heard wise people say."

"Ah, that's so, I suppose," said Charlie. "But I can't think of anything that could be worse than the lack of appreciation which the farmers
show me."

"It is true, we do steal the grain and the corn. We love corn—all crows do. And many of us are thieves—in fact, most of us are thieves, I believe.
But we must eat and we must live,
and if we can't go to the markets and pick up pennies and nickels and dimes for our food, we just have to take it as we can."

"We can't shop like people. We have no money, no pocketbooks, no bank accounts. The squirrels have savings banks where they save nuts, like children save their pennies. But we are without all these things."

"We are without all of them," agreed Mrs. Crow. "And it is most insulting for the farmers to put scarecrows in the fields and it is still more hard-hearted of them to let us think for a moment that they would have runs fired off at us—that's what they try to make us think."

"Yes, it's hard, very, very hard," she said.

"And though I will admit that our family does steal and that we do rob the farmers of some goodies—still, the harm we do doesn't half come up to the good we do. We eat the grains and different kinds of worms which would destroy the crops for the farmers, many and many a time," said Charlie.

"Yes," said Mrs. Crow, "the harm
we do is little. The good we do amounts to a great deal. But, Charlie, don't be sad or insulted, for things might be so much worse. You are alive and well. You have a loving mate and a fine brood of children."

"You have good strong wings, and your handsome black suit; you have your eyesight and your voice."

"Whenever you get discouraged, think of the creatures who have real troubles—who are sick and miserable
and who actually suffer."

"That's so," said Charlie, "my troubles are very few compared to what some creatures have to put up with.
But I do wish I could tell the farmers
that I do try to do all I can to help them—even if they think it is impossible for me to have anything good about me."

"Sooner or later they'll know and thank us," said Mrs. Charlie Crow.

Sarah Elizabeth's Discovery.

Sarah Elizabeth is a tiny doll, and she wanted a sweater so badly she didn't know what to do. But all the wool was too heavy and the needles too large to knit a sweater for such a tiny doll. So she thought and thought—and now she has a beautiful silk sweater made of embroidery silk that comes on spools. And her needles were straight hairpins. Wasn't she a smart doll? You try it—it's great fun.

Courteous.

Little Dorothy's uncles are both at the war and she has a great admiration for soldiers. The other day in a crowded street car she was sitting on her mother's lap when a wounded soldier entered. Dorothy immediately slipped to the floor. "Here, Soldier,"
she offered, "you can sit on mamma's lap."

HIS FARMERETTE

By NELLIE A. DELANEY.

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

Martha Colby added a few finishing touches to the already spotless kitchen.

"Tonight four girls were coming from the city to work on the farm. Mr.
Colby found male help impossible to secure, so at last he gave up and advertised for farmerettes."

Martha brushed back the jet black hair from her forehead, put on a fresh blue gingham dress, a white, stiffly starched apron, and before she could get to the kitchen a loud pealing of the door bell announced the arrival of the new farm hands. She opened the door nervously, and there stood four fashionably dressed girls. Laughing and chatting merrily, they followed the now more than ever nervous Martha.

"In the dining room Tom Colby, born farmer, showed plainly that life on a farm had not made him any different from the rest of the sterner sex. He gazed admiringly at each pretty girl, and Martha could not remember when he had talked so much, but instead of the uneasy feeling leaving her it grew more apparent, and she tried in vain to hide the red hands, rough from heavy work."

Married at sixteen, then ten years of hard work to help pay off the mortgage on the little farm, made Martha feel more like forty than twenty-six.

Before the first meal was over Martha was experiencing a feeling absolutely new to her. She was thinking of the long evenings when Tom, after a hard day's work, would go to sleep in his easy chair, then the long, lonesome evening must be passed in silence. Tonight he was wide awake, and after supper, through the open window Martha watched him eagerly show the four girls the different places on the farm. She turned from the window, and the ugly pain that had started at supper, increased with great rapidity, nor could she explain its meaning, for Martha was experiencing jealousy for the first time in her life.

She hated the four rosy-cheeked girls with their city ways; she hated the way they plastered their hair around their ears, entirely covering them, and she felt that she almost hated her beloved Tom.

As the days wore on Martha became more silent and miserable. One day she got up courage to ask Tom what he thought of the farmerettes, and he expressed himself in one word,
"peaches." Then it was true, she told herself, Tom was slowly slipping away from her, and walking into the next room the big brown eyes filled with tears.

"Why the tears, girl?" a musical voice sounded behind her. The blood rushed to Martha's cheeks as the prettiest of the four farmerettes approached her. "I forgot my powder puff," she added by way of explanation
for coming back from the field.

Martha's first impulse was to run away; instead, womanlike, she burst into tears, and let the girl she hated lead her to the chair and coax from her the reason why she wept. Putting her arm around Martha, she whispered: "Little country girl, you are jealous without cause; why, you are five times as pretty as any city girl.
But as we are going back to the city tonight, let's prove that fact to your husband. He is going to drive us to the station, but before we go we will fix you up a little—only," she added,
"we can't put any more roses in those cheeks." After much whispered planning, they separated.

That night, as Tom Colby sat in the wagon waiting for the four girls to appear, it seemed to him it took them a long time to bid Martha good-by. They finally appeared, and Tom drove them to the station. He did not wait for the train; somehow, tonight he longed to pass a pleasant evening alone with his wife; he had made up his mind
there was just one little farmerette
in the world for him, and that was Martha.

As he drove into the yard, he was a little surprised that Martha did not come to meet him, as was her custom.
Throwing the reins to the hired man,
he hurried into the kitchen. The super-dishes were still in the pan, and the table had not been cleared.

A feeling of fear came over Tom, and he hurried into the bedroom. There on the floor in a crumpled heap was the familiar blue gingham dress. A slight noise in the parlor turned his attention there, and pushing open the door
he beheld Martha in a blue silk dress, white shoes and stockings, and, worst of all, the beautiful black hair was pulled tightly over two pink ears.

Tom stared for some minutes in silence, then Martha asked sweetly: "Do
I look so strange in pretty clothes, Tom? Don't I look as good as the four farmerettes?"

"Why, Martha, girl," Tom replied slowly, "there's just one farmerette in this world for me, and that's my Martha, but it took four city girls to wake me up to that fact, but," he added,
wistfully, "I like you best in the blue gingham, with your hair done the other way."

The following week a little stenographer in a stuffy office stopped pounding the keys of her typewriter long enough to read a postcard from her country friend, and she smiled happily
at its contents: "It worked fine, dear,
but I am still wearing my gingham dress, and he won't let me wear my hair over my ears."

ARMY INSPECTOR PLEAS- ED WITH CONDITIONS

Lieut. T. B. Boyle, military inspector, was at the normal Friday to make an inspection of the S. A. T. C.
and matters pertaining to the welfare of the boys. He inspected the barracks and mess hall and found both satisfactory. He stated that the barracks are already almost filled to its capacity, but the building can be double decked if necessary and room made for 50 or 75 more. He also made an investigation of the city water and hospital and on these points,
also, was satisfied.

Catarh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease.
Catarh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarh Cure is what produces such wonderful results in catarh conditions.

Red Cross Notes.
Pontotoc county holds its usual record for going "Over the top." Our quota for clothing for the Belgium Relief committee was 2000 lbs. We have ready for shipment $639 lbs. The auxiliaries more than raised their quotas. Stonewall 1150 lbs., Roff 850, Francis 750.

The linen shower Thursday was a wonderful success. 103 sheets, 150 hand towels, 173 bath towels, 565 handkerchiefs. Auxiliaries not heard from on this drive, but we know they will go over the top.

We feel that special mention should be given the Carpenters Union of this place. When you make a call for anything for the Red Cross they never fail to hear the call. During our shower Thursday we were asked what articles we were most in need of. When told sheets and handkerchiefs, we were advised that it was the Carpenters Union with $25 wanting to buy linens for the hospitals of France. They bought 10 sheets and 85 handkerchiefs. Not only the gift, but the thought is so much appreciated.

We want to call attention to a Sealey mattress in Levin's Furniture store window. This mattress was made by Mr. Kenneth Boggan, tick given by S. M. Shaw, most of the cotton is from our sample sack on the corner. It will be sold Saturday, Oct. 12th at public auction. Entire proceeds to the Red Cross. This is certainly very nice of this young man. We feel that a neat sum will be realized for the Red Cross.—Mrs. Orville Sneed, Secretary.

JUST A LITTLE SMILE

Cabbages and Wartime.
Two smokers were standing on a city curb, away from the currents stirred by passersby.
One was smoking a pipe.
The other threw a half-finished cigar into the street.
"That's against the law," said the pipe smoker.
"Why, I threw it into the gutter," said the other.
"But it's against the law to throw away cabbage in wartime."

Couldn't Follow Suit.
"Well," remarked the facetious person, "do you believe in the old saying, 'When in Rome do as the Romans do?'"
"No," replied the widely traveled man. "I am an adaptable person as a rule, but I was once the unwilling guest of some cannibals on an island in the Pacific, and I couldn't do as those particular 'Romans' did when they sat down to a banquet."

Generally Useful.
Mrs. Rankin—Mrs. Gliddigad says she takes a lot of comfort out of their new maid.
Mrs. Phyle—But isn't a maid a great expense to a person in her circumstances?
"Yes, but she says she get's her money's worth."
"How?"
"The girl is so pretty both of them always get seats on the street cars."

No Miracle.
Hubbub—Having any trouble with your cooks nowadays?
Subbub—I am glad to say that the last one hasn't given us the slightest trouble for more than a week.
Hubbub—That's wonderful!
Subbub—Naw it isn't. It's been that long since she left.

PRACTICAL ACCOUNT.

Hubbub—I just adore heroes, I would have a man with a good war record for a husband.
Subbub—I think I'd rather have one with a good bank account.

Optional.
We live for just a little while.
To sorrow or rejoice—
Time brings a frown or else a smile,
And you can take your choice.

Peaceful Place for War.
"I see Flubbub escorting his wife to the conservatory. Since they are seeking a secluded nook, they are evidently still in love."
"You can't tell. They are going in there to finish a quarrel, I rather think."

Who Could Be Angry?
"Madam, may I ask why you are mutilating my awning?"
"I want to get a skirt with an awning stripe like that, and I thought you wouldn't mind if I cut off a little piece for a sample."

Stenographer Asks Help.
"Oh, Maude, dearie, tell me, honey—"
"Uh, huh; shoot, Mabel, I'm listening."
"Maude, honey, how many 'r's' are there in 'idiosyncrasy?'"

A Hot One.
Cholly (in a perfect outburst of anger)—Really, Miss Kawstick, you give me a pain, doncha know?
Miss Kawstick—It's not a present, Cholly. You've earned it.

No Names Mentioned.
Lovey—Wasn't it terrible the way they used to ride people on rails.
Dovey—Oh, I don't know. It couldn't have been much worse than the way we commuters have to ride 'em now.

Sure Proof.
"I am sure the owner of this auto did not run away after the smashup. He is above suspicion."
"I know that, because he is under the auto."

MOSER'S DEPARTMENT STORE

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS FOR SALE

Passed by the Censor. Copyright 1914.

Here is the long, lean, lanky Yank, the most typical picture yet published of one of the American fighting men in action. Each Yank, delivered F. O. B. France, costs the proceeds of forty-one $50 Liberty Bonds.

"It's against all precedent. It's simply not done, you know."
"An American and an allied officer crouched behind a precarious shelter near Bois de Belleau during a short bombardment preparatory to an attack. It was the man experienced in years of trench warfare who made the remark."

The American laughed. "These fellows will break something else beside precedent before they are through. It may not 'be done,' but look, they are doing it!"

Several platoon waves of long, lean, lanky Yanks had emerged from the shelter and were advancing in a typically American style. There was no barrage, no slow, methodical walk behind artillery protection, which has long been the proper thing on the front. They dashed forward, took cover, dashed forward again in short, rushing charges, cheerfully wiped out a few impeding machine gun nests and mopped up a sector of Hun trench.

They astonish the Allies, but they astonish the Germans still more. They still follow the old set rules of trench warfare where necessary, as at Cantigny, but once in the open the Yank is individuality itself.

It costs forty-one $50 bonds to put one of these long, lean fighting boys on the front. His living expenses will have cost nine bonds and his personal equipment six. It takes thirteen $50 bonds to buy his service equipment. His pay up to the time he is trained and in the fighting takes the proceeds of another nine. His housing and final transportation to France takes four bonds more.

We must have millions more of him. Every advantage in numbers means a quicker, less costly finish to the war, and it is a proud American who can say he has a representative, equipped and trained with his money, "breaking precedents" somewhere in France.
